Harmony Co. Would Substitute Busses For Cars In New Castle

New Proposal Is Made By Harmony Company To City

President McCahill Would Stop Harmony Cars At City Line

WOULD SURRENDER ALL RIGHTS IN CITY

Tells Council Revenues Of Traffic Do Not Justify Repaving Costs.

Through the proposal made by David McCahill, president of the Pittsburgh, Harmony, Butler and New Castle Railway Company, Wednesday afternoon to Mayor William H. Gillespie, Councilman Clayton H. Reeves and City Solicitor R. M. White, representing the city, in the conference held at the former's request in the office of the city solicitor, status of the Butler avenue paving situation, have been very materially changed.

Proposal of Mr. McCahill is that the Pittsburgh, Harmony, Butler and New Castle Railway company will surrender all its franchise privileges in the city of New Castle, providing the city will in return cancel all obligations of all kinds that it may have against the company.

Further, the company will convey to the city all its interests in the rails and tracks of the company, which the city may salvage to reimburse it when paving streets and also convey to the city its private right of way from Butler avenue to Taylor street without cost to the city.

To Use Buses in City

The company will terminate its service by railway at East New Castle, furnishing accommodations for its patrons to and from that point to the public square and its present terminal on East Washington street by bus and establish a new and better through bus service from this city to Pittsburgh.

The company asks that the city join with it in approaching the Public.

PA NEW OBSERVES

In the southern end of the county this is a great day. The celebration marking the opening of the Ellwood City-Zenonle improved highway is taking place. The new road is another step in highway progress in Western Pennsylvania that is important to a wide area.

Pa. News notes that work on building of a highway strip in Mercer county has been held up awaiting rain. Water scarcity in that section is such that construction of the highway has been interfered with.

Keeping the golf greens green in days like these is no small task, Pa. News would imagine.

Those optimistic souls who carried raincoats and umbrellas to work yesterday were disappointed, but they haven't as yet given up hope. Rain appears to be in the offing today.

If the cars from different states parked about The Castleton this morning indicate visitors in our city to attend the fair, then there are

FOREST FIRES RAGE NEAR RIDGWAY, PA.

(International News Service)

RIDGWAY, Pa., Aug. 7.—Coal mines were closed here today as employees were drafted to augment the fire-fighting force which has been battling a raging forest fire in this section for several days.

It has been estimated that more than 1,000 acres have already been destroyed by the onrush of the flames, quickened by strong breezes and lack of rain.

The most serious of the several blazes reported in Elk county was on the "barrens," 11 miles southwest of here, where fire wardens have expressed the belief that only rain in large quantities will stop the flames. This fire started early Sunday morning.

Flames were sweeping toward the little village of Byrnedale. The town is not believed to be in serious danger, however, as a six-mile trench has been thrown up around the town.

Back-firing, considered the most effective method of combating forest fires, proved unavailable when flames bridged the gap and continued to sweep onward. Lack of water has seriously handicapped the men.

Deer, rabbits and other forest animals are forsaking their haunts here and fleeing for other sections. Many of them were unable to beat the flames, however, and burned carcasses have been seen in large numbers lying in the burned territory.

Grove City Man And Wife In Jameson Memorial Hospital With Injuries

Car Goes Into Ditch On Slippery Rock Road, When Driver Slaps At Insect

C. S. Marsteller and his wife, Florence, of 130 Garden street, Grove City, are in the Jameson Memorial hospital suffering from injuries received in a peculiar accident on the Slippery Rock road, just beyond Harlansburg early last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsteller were enroute to their home from this city, and after passing Harlansburg, a bee flew into the car, lighting on Mrs. Marsteller's shoulder. In attempting to brush the insect away Mr. Marsteller lost control of the machine which plunged into the ditch and struck a culvert.

Passing motorists brought them to the Jameson Memorial hospital where it was found both had sustained severe bruises and lacerations about the head and body, while Mrs. Marsteller has injuries to her shoulder, the extent of which have not been fully determined.

Their car was badly damaged.

Claudius Huston Will Step Down Today In Favor Of Senator Simeon Fess

HARMONY IS FAR FROM PERFECT

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The guiding geniuses of the Republican party assembled at national headquarters here today to put their house in order after a four-month period in which the much-vaunted G. O. P. harmony was rather badly disrupted.

Claudius H. Huston will tender his resignation as chairman of the Republican national committee as the featured move in the program to restore party peace, and Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, will be chosen temporary successor.

Completing the plans perfected by the leaders, Robert H. Lucas, of Kentucky, who is collector of internal revenue, will be elected chairman of the executive committee and placed in active charge of the impending congressional campaign.

It was not the meeting of the executive committee, however, that furnished the day's fireworks. The business of replacing Huston with Fess and putting Lucas in charge has long been out and dried.

WEDDING BELLS RING FOR DOLORES

(International News Service)

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Aug. 7.—Dolores Del Rio, screen star, and her husband, Cedric Gibbons, motion picture art director, are honeymooning "somewhere in California" today following their wedding yesterday at the picturesque Santa Barbara Mission.

Before leaving, the couple had made it known that the honeymoon would be brief, as both must soon return to their film work.

The ceremony was performed last evening by the Rev. Father Augustine, of the Mission, following a flood of rumors, later proven baseless, that the priest would refuse to marry them because Dolores had been divorced from her first husband, now dead.

Mrs. J. L. Asunsolo, mother of the bride, was matron of honor, and Benjamin Glazer, scenario writer, was best man. Only a small group of invited guests were present.

Lack Of Customary Air Currents Responsible For Present Drought Government Weatherman Claims

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—While disputing that there can be anything really accidental in nature's activities, Professor William J. Humphreys, chief meteorological physicist of the weather bureau, does recognize the influence of the laws of chance in combining just the right conditions for so prolonged and pronounced a period of heat and drought as this season's.

"Dating from last March, and in some sections from as long ago as last December," says the professor, "moisture has been deficient in the air most of the United States east of the Rockies, except Florida, and also over much of central western and southern Europe, especially Italy."

"The sun's rays being freed in this area from their task of holding vast quantities of water in suspension, have had to exhaust their energy otherwise, and therefore have expended it in the form of heat which accounts for the summer's high temperature everywhere that the drought has prevailed."

Air Current Lacking

"Naturally, one wonders why there have been less than the normal amount of moisture in the air over

NOGALES, ARIZONA HIT BY BIG FLOOD

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

NOGALES, Ariz., Aug. 7.—The twin cities of Nogales, Ariz., and Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, on either side of the international border today were digging out from under the debris of the worst flood in their history, following a night of terror.

The bodies of an unidentified man and woman were found floating in the main street of Nogales, Arizona, at daybreak when the work of rescue was started. Many other drownings were reported.

Lights went out early in the storm.

Heavy Damage

The scenes of terrified women and children were intermingled with the roar of rushing waters and the crash of crumbling homes.

Night life in the gay clubs of Nogales, Mexico, was in full swing when a downpour resembling a cloudburst swept down upon the towns that turned the dry creek beds of the Santa Rita Mountains, Mexico, into roaring rivers which engulfed the cities on either side of the border.

Railroad tracks, telegraph and telephone lines were swept away in the rush of waters.

New Castle Fair Draws Big Crowd; Notable Success

CATTLE CALVACADE MOST IMPOSING

Fair Closing Tonight Has Been Record Making In Many Respects

All the planning and hoping, the work and worry, and the anticipation of the past months of the backers of the New Castle Fair, were more than repaid Wednesday afternoon and evening when the fair grounds were jammed from noon until almost midnight. The midway looked like a department store on a sale morning, the exhibition booths took on the appearance of a presidential reception on New Year's Day, and the races saw the stand black with people.

It was the big day of the fair, and not only of this fair, but the biggest day the New Castle Fair has seen in years. Beginning at noon the cars started trekking out to the grounds and by mid afternoon the parking lot showed a couple of thousand cars of every size and kind.

Their Money's Worth

If there was anybody in the huge throng who did not get their money's worth, his complaint was swallowed up in the general chorus of commendation for the fair and the arrangements. There was an attraction for every taste, a good time for everybody seeking it, and not a dull minute from noon till midnight.

TRUCK USED IN ROBBERY FOUND

Cash Container Carted Away After Safe Is Broken Open

Cash container of the large safe of the office of the Strouss-Hirshberg company department store, North Mill and North streets, weighing four hundred pounds and containing $500 in cash and checks, was stolen early last evening, by safe crackers, who forced an entrance through a rear window and carted their plunder away in a truck of The Frew Company. The loss is covered by insurance.

The truck was recovered intact and containing linoleum laying tools and materials, about 10 o'clock this morning near the French residence at Harbor bridge by City Detective C. G. Find No Japanese Beetles Near Here

Field Scouts Of U. S. Department Of Agriculture Operating In District

Field scouts of the United States department of agriculture, of the plant quarantine and control administration, with headquarters at Harrisburg, have arrived in the local district to conduct an inspection and begin scouting operations for the Japanese beetle.

There are four men in the party, a foreman and three scouts. They stated this morning that no traces of the Japanese beetle have been found west of Ligonier, Pa., but that the district in and about New Castle will be thoroughly covered to see that none of the destructive pests have penetrated this far.

They might be easily carried by tourists or trains passing through the infested area in the eastern part of the state, and no effort is being spared by the state and federal authorities to curb the spread of the pest.

Titusville Woman Is Being Sued For Sum Of $20,265.42

Two Prominent New York Law
Firms And Detective Agency
Sue Titusville Woman

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7.—Three suits for fees, totaling $20,265.42 against Mrs. Anne C. Carter of Titusville, are on file today in the United States district court, filed by two prominent firms of New York and a detective agency of the same city.

Plaintiffs claim they earned the money while employed by Mrs. Carter to prevent her husband, Luke B. Carter, from obtaining a divorce in Crawford county courts. They assert, in their statement of claim, that they were successful in defeating efforts of the husband and that Mrs. Carter later obtained a divorce.

The legal firm of Wilcox, Chambers and Scandrett filed one suit asking for $7,598.40, with interest from June 4, 1929.

George G. Battle, Julius Battle, Julius Miller, Isaac H. Levy, Addison A. Van Tine and Ludlow S. Fowles seek $3,500 with interest from November 30, 1929.

The Thomas J. Tunney International Detective Agency, Inc., demands $8,167.02 with interest from June 3, 1929.

All three plaintiffs allege that the amounts are unpaid balances due for fees and expenses.

Lawyer plaintiffs alleged Mrs. Carter said she and her husband were separated and that he had started divorce proceedings against her in Crawford county. They claim she retained them to defend her in the suit and secure a fair property settlement. They claim Carter was balked with his proceedings in Crawford county through their efforts. Later Mrs. Carter obtained a divorce, they state.

The detective firm alleges that Mrs. Carter hired sleuths to observe Carter and Mrs. Beatrice Stevens Emerson, with whom he was alleged to have been visiting.

You're the JUDGE

Old Mrs. Jenks was getting old, indeed. She felt her age creeping on her every day, and feeling alone in the world, felt she ought to provide for someone to take care of her.

Fortunately, Mrs. Jenks was possessed of some means. And she entered into an agreement with a middle-aged couple living nearby by which the couple agreed to care for her in sickness and in health as long as Mrs. Jenks lived. In return Mrs. Jenks promised to contribute $100 a month toward the upkeep of the house, and promised, in addition, that with her death the couple should have $50,000 that Mrs. Jenks had in safe keeping at a bank. This was put in writing and signed in the presence of witnesses.

Mrs. Jenks then moved into the home of the couple and lived in what appeared to be a quiet comfort.

But after several years she left them and went to live with another couple in another city, where four or five years later she died, leaving a will in which these new caretakers were named her executors and in which she provided that all of her possessions were to go to them.

Of course, the first couple sued. In the trial the lawyer for the new couple with whom Mrs. Jenks lived argued that any contract Mrs. Jenks may have had was broken when she moved. And anyway, the statute of limitations had already gone into effect.

belts and spots exist known to us for their aridity which are largely missed, generally due to topographical eccentricities.

"However, it occasionally happens, for one reason or another, that a seasonal southward rush of cold air is directed into some special channel. Maybe it gets this direction from an exceptional patch of polar snow. Thus far we are uncertain as to the exact cause. At all events, when it occurs the air tends to keep to the pipe line it has created and the warmer air to return by the same route, until it is quite briskly disturbed. Of course such a disturbance is inevitable ultimately, but from an agricultural standpoint it easily may be disastrously delayed—as is seriously threatened this season."

No Climatic Periodicity

There cannot properly be said to be such a thing as climatic periodicity, according to Professor Humphreys. There is a cyclical quality in the weather, he agrees—that is, to say a slowly swelling and diminishing average, but meanwhile there are likely to be decided variations season by season, or several seasons at a time, so that, for purposes of a seasonal forecast, average calculations have little value.

"Sunspots," solar variations? "We feel them slightly," nodded the professor. "The earth also receives a little reflected heat from moon and stars and a medium from its own internal boiler. This amount is enough to signify in comparison with absolute zero, but infinitesimal compared with the sun's normal average variation—insufficient to affect the weather appreciably."

Baby Mix-up Case In Turmoil Again

Mrs. Margaret Watkins, Chicago, Says That She Believes She Has Wrong Baby

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—The Watkins-Bamberger baby identity mixup was in a state of turmoil again today.

Mrs. Margaret Watkins, returning from a rest at the home of her parents, where she went following the excitement of the controversy, said she was convinced that she did not have her own child. Heretofore she has stated merely that she was still in doubt.

Mrs. Watkins and her husband, William, had $100,000 damage on file against the Englewood hospital, where her baby was born. Leaving the hospital, she received a baby tagged "Bamberger," and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bamberger received an infant labeled "Watkins."

The Bambergers are certain they have the right baby. When a jury of scientists reported after exhaustive investigation, that the babies had been switched, they refused to abide by the verdict.

REPUBLICAN PARTY CHIEFS GATHER IN HOT SESSION TODAY

fiery statement issued by Col. Horace Mann, who handled the successful drive for Hoover delegates in the south in 1928. Mann, of late, has gone to the mat with Postmaster General Brown over the question of southern patronage and its control, and the statement was fair warning that Mann intends to continue the fight right up to the 1932 convention.

Assuring the situation in the south regarding delegates to Republican national conventions "has been nothing short of disgraceful," Mann announced he intended to see that the 1932 convention shall have "a solid delegation of men and women (from the southern states) uncontested and un-instructed."

This statement was brought promptly to the attention of President Hoover, who, of course, as a potential candidate for re-election has a vital interest in southern delegates and their votes. One of the president's advisors interpreted it as an effort on Mann's part to control single-handedly approximately 132 delegates at the next convention.

Thus, the growth of a "left wing" movement engineered last week by Mann when he caused disgruntled Republicans from ten states below the Mason-Dixon line to be assembled in a rump convention is being watched with renewed interest. Those men who met near Savannah, Ga., at Mann's instance are the ones Brown consistently has refused to recognize when patronage referees were designated at the south. Of the meeting, Mann said:

"This southern-wide organization is but a welding together of that noble band of men and women who constituted the personnel of the southern states' organizations set up by me at the 1928 campaign. Its purpose is to create a leadership of men and women in the congressional districts of each state."

To stabilize a party standard of unity; to conduct a campaign of education which will for all time put an end to the former practice of trafficking and trading in delegates from certain sections of the south at Republican national conventions; to serve notice on all outsiders that the Republicans of the south are amply able to manage their own political affairs; that the 1932 Republican national convention shall have a solid delegation of men and women uncontested and un-instructed; that the party in the south has no less a right to participate in the councils of the nation than any other section or group of states; to stand unitedly for the betterment and general welfare of the southland and all her people."

Handle Own Affairs
Mann said he sought control of patronage and in the same breath charged the bulk of it of late "has been passed out to an interloping element of carpet baggers." The redoubtable colonel added that "henceforth we are going to handle our own political affairs in our own way and without outside interference from any source whatsoever."

Mann denied any intention of seeking to appear before today's meeting of the executive committee. He is expected to wait until the meeting of the full national committee, which will be called either in September or October.

So today's assembly, will be most harmonious.

The leaders are treating a sign of relief over successful culmination of their long fight to persuade Huston to relinquish the reins—a fight which began early last Spring when the senate lobby committee attacked the lobbying activities in connection with Muscle Shoals and certain subsequent stock market speculations—and they have no desire that anything disturb today's serenity. The plan only to receive Huston's resignation, elect Fess temporary chairman and Lucas executive chairman. The vacant secretaryship will go over until the full meeting, as will the directorship of the women's division. About the only other business will be confirmation of assistant secretary of the navy Ernest Lee Jahncke as national committeeman for Louisiana.

The task of turning out the southern row will be left to Lucas and Fess to undertake later.

lishing a new east-west transcontinental record.

Hawks, making six stops, clipped 3 hours, 5 minutes and 11 seconds from the east-west record of 18:42:54 made by Col. Roscoe Turner last May. Turning made one perfect going time flying time, deducting the stops, was 13 hours and 31 minutes.

The golf match was arranged by the flyer's father, Charles M. Hawks, by telephone just before his noted son took off at dawn yesterday from Curtis Field, N. Y. They planned to play yesterday, and when the son arrived, three hours of perfect golfing time ruled, but the flyers' mother ruled that food and rest were more important.

Hawks plans to take off Sunday in quest of another speed record on the return trip to New York, on which stops also will be made. He has set ten hours as his goal, and expects to have the aid of tail winds over most of the journey. Head winds and thunderstorms delayed his westward flight.

STAR LORE WHY ASTROLOGY DIED A NATURAL DEATH

By Arthur Dev. Carpenter
The distinguished astronomer, Prof. J. H. Jeans, in his recent book, "The Universe Around Us," says: "When the astrologers went wrong was in supposing that terrestrial empires, kings and individuals formed such important items in the scheme of the universe that the motions of the heavenly bodies could be intimately bound up with their affairs. As soon as man began to realize, even faintly, his own insignificance in the universe, astrology died a natural and inevitable death." The galaxy—our part of the universe—contains 30 billion stars. Self-importance fitted in well with the primitive notion that the earth was at the center of the Universe and the stars numbered but a few.

BURGLARS HAUL SAFE FROM STORE; DURING NIGHT

Hirshberg Company store, who immediately informed the police and management of the store.

The belief of the police is that the job was done by professionals. Entrance was effected by forcing a rear window into the delivery room of the store, located on the first floor. It is believed possible that the window had not been securely fastened, making entrance easier.

On gaining entrance to the store the safe crackers evidently made their way to the second floor, on which the office is located. A door was forced to gain entrance to the second floor.

Remove Cash Container
After forcing open the large safe in the office the cash container, which is large and heavy, was removed. The elevator was evidently used in taking it from the second to the first floor, as the marks where it was dragged are plainly visible on the floor.

It was taken to the delivery room, or direct to the warehouse or garage adjoining it, and in which a truck of The Frew Company was parked. The door of the garage was opened and the truck driven away. It is considered possible that safe crackers had another car to which the safe cash container was removed and carried on to a point considered more safe to open it.

Seek Truck at 10:30 P. M.
The police determined the time at which the robbery was effected by the fact that Mrs. Thomas Plant of North street was seated on the front porch of her home, from which she had a clear view of the rear of the Strauss-Hirshberg Company store, and saw a truck drive out and speed away about 10:30 p. m. She did not see how many men were in the truck.

The safe crackers in departing left all doors open and the store was wide open when the janitor arrived and made his discovery this morning.

Apparently money was the only object of the thieves, as no merchandise was found missing. The Frew Company store on the upper floors, had evidently not been molested in any way.

The investigating officers found a chisel and a piece of cable about 18 inches in length which had been left behind by the thieves in their desire to get away. The cable, the police say was a means of attacking any person who might have interfered.

While the exact amount of the loss is not known, it is estimated by the store management that there was approximately $500 in checks and cash in the cash container. Payment of the checks is being stopped.

In the meantime the police have secured a number of clues and hope that it may lead to the apprehension of the thieves.

There were times when you couldn't be sure if it was your own or your neighbors feet you were walking on, there were times when it was easier to drift along with the crowd than it was to try and get somewhere else, but it was a pleasure seeking crowd, and jostling is a part of the fun.

Those who like to see the harness racers go, got all they wanted, plus a lot of free entertainment along with the thrill of the fast stepping bangs. Lieutenant Scava and his Gendarmes of Puntstutawnee, a group of unusual horsemen thrilling the crowd with their Roman riding, their high jumping and their all around equestrian entertainment. Horse and rider seemed as one as the different members of the troupe went through the numbers they presented. It's the best equestrian act ever shown at the New Castle Fair by far, one that keeps the spectators on the edge of their seats until the stunts are over. Soldo the Great, the wizard of the handcuffs and shackles gave a demonstration of his skill and as usual, mystified the crowd with his ability to escape from the shackles placed on him by members of the state police.

Night Fair Goes On

The night fair was just a continuation of the success of the day fair. Under the direction of Carol Kearns a style show and revue was presented and again the grand stand was packed, the paddock was packed and the bleachers more than full. It was something new for New Castle Fair, a night fair that drew a huge crowd and demonstrated at least that the people were willing to go if you give them something to see.

Prior to the opening of the style show and revue, the cattle cavalcade paraded before the crowd. Sleek, prosperous looking cattle, most of them prize winners paraded before the grand stand and from the manner in which they conducted themselves one could almost imagine the cattle knew they were good. If they didn't the crowd knew it. Lieutenant Scava and his Gendarmes presented another jumping act, and at eight thirty the style show and revue went on, with Judy Sypher and his band providing the music.

The stage setting for the revue was one that might have been borrowed from a musical revue on the big time. Black and gold were the colors, with modernistic effects, lighted by spotlights, standing it out like a jewel set against the dark flush of an August sky.

Styles and Steps

Styles and steps were mixed together in a delightful cocktail of entertainment. Good looking girls paraded the latest in women's wear before the crowd, and clever little dancers, singers and instrumentalists did their share towards the evening's success. It was a hit, a smashing hit, and everybody went home satisfied.

Tonight closes the New Castle Fair and it is to be hoped that the crowd this afternoon and evening somewhere near approaches that of Wednesday. If it does, and there seems no reason why it shouldn't, then you can write it down in your memory book that the fair of 1930 was a bit of a success it deserved to be.

SWIMMING POOL FOR CHILDREN

EXCESSIVE heat of the present summer has focused attention of the city upon the necessity of providing an out of doors swimming place for the children of the city who desire to cool off.

There has been considerable of a battle between the would be swimmers and residents in the vicinity of Neshannock creek over the use of an improvised pool in the Neshannock near the North street bridge.

It appears to us that the matter of a swimming place for the children is one that can easily be taken care of. It is not necessary for the city to go to heavy expense, nor to provide a pool that will be a menace. It could be placed at some location in the creek where it would be satisfactory to all and then the children be required to stay in it.

The trouble about carrying out a project of this kind is that as soon as the swimming place is mentioned, many immediately vision an elaborate pool where it will be deep enough for fancy diving, etc. Our idea is that what the children want is a wading pool, not an elaborate swimming pool. There are plenty of places where older persons who desire to do fancy diving, and strenuous swimming can go. A wading pool, or a swimming pool of sufficient depth that the children could cool off on hot days would solve the problem we believe. It would not be expensive and would not even need to be built as a permanent affair.

The idea that was developed some years ago by providing a swimming place along the Neshannock, by erecting a temporary dam was alright, but it was too elaborate. The dam was too large and the pool was too deep.

We have seen pools that are provided for children in other cities, and most of them are nothing more nor less than wading pools a few feet deep.

We believe that providing a pool of this kind for the children of New Castle would be a solution to the difficulty that has developed over swimming in the Neshannock.

One could be provided at a proper location in the Neshannock without heavy expense.

BANKRUPTCY EVILS

Unemployment and bankruptcy laws and practices are to be subjected to a new and searching scrutiny by command of President Hoover, who has already started both investigations on their way.

Here are two subjects that seem to be far apart and yet are related; business and unemployment cannot very well be divorced. Both matters are very close to the presidential heart and are problems of vital importance to the nation.

A commission, comprising the secretaries of labor, agriculture and commerce and representatives of the American Federation of Labor, Manufacturers Association, Chamber of Commerce of the United States and a number of economic bodies, will study the census figures on employment and unemployment with the expectancy of finding in them the key to future unemployment prevention. The president is not thinking of the present alone.

Investigation of the bankruptcy situation has long been warranted. Since 1925 the losses through bankruptcy exceeded $3,000,000,000. They now average $750,000,000 a year. There must be something very wrong with such a state of affairs.

That much of this loss is due to fraud is certain; that some of it is caused by inefficient trade methods and shoe-string enterprises is equally certain. In any event, changes in the bankruptcy laws seem necessary, if the nation's commerce is to be relieved of this ruinous drag.

PENNSYLVANIA'S FIRST WOMAN JUDGE

Governor Fisher's appointment of the first woman to sit on the Bench in Pennsylvania was prompted, he said, by her special fitness for the post. The distinction falls on Miss Sarah M. Soffel, who succeeds Sylvester J. Snee as judge of the Allegheny County Court.

Women have now been serving as jurors in this state for ten years, and since their advent the largest group of cases in the docket has concerned violations of the liquor laws and traffic laws. While they are supposed to have a quicker conscience than men in dealing with liquor problems, their success in the administration of Prohibition has neither risen above nor fallen below that of the other sex with a longer judicial tradition asserts the Philadelphia Inquirer. Since the same ratio of offenses will doubtless fall to the lot of Judge Soffel, it will be interesting to see how she handles the situation.

The first woman to win a Federal Court seat was Genevieve Cline of the Customs Court at New York. Among the most distinguished feminine jurists is Kathryn Sellers of the Juvenile Court in Washington. In each of these instances the honor has come worthily on the basis of merit. Miss Soffel having served acceptably as Assistant City Solicitor in Pittsburgh. It is interesting to note that she was a student at Wellesley about the time Emma Fall Schofield was studying at Boston University. Mrs. Schofield is now an Assistant Attorney General of Massachusetts.

Real Drought Is Here.
Stock Prices Sprout.
They Demand Work.
Czar's Debt's Bed Debts.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1930, King Features
Syn., Inc.)

President Hoover warned by Secretary Hyde that the excessive drought is a menace to crops and farmers, has given orders that every effort be made to relieve the distress.

Curiously, the news of the drought stimulates better Wall Street prices. One man's poison is another man's meat.

If the drought kills grain, there won't be so much wheat, prices must go up. Prices of stocks depend largely on grain prices.

That reasoning is not comforting to farmers. If they have a good crop they can't get anything for it. If they haven't any wheat, they could get any price for wheat they haven't got.

In Ohio, 100 farmers crops ruined, cows giving no milk for lack of grass, went in a body to demand work at road building.

As there were a hundred of them, the work was furnished. Those applying individually had been refused.

Some "best minds" will say "that seems like Socialism, bullying public officials is intimidation."

But they don't protest when railroads say to the Interstate Commerce Commission, "We are not making enough money. We need higher rates."

They get the higher rates. And when manufacturers are not satisfied with earnings they go to the tariff tinkers saying, "We are not making enough money. We need higher rates." They get higher rates.

But a farmer or any other man demanding a chance to work, seems a menace. That's democratic government.

Stalin says Russia will not pay the Czar's debts, and there is no reason why Russia should pay them. This ought to be the last country to insist on payment. We are supposed not to believe in czars.

If King George had issued bonds on the United States before we got rid of him, we should not have paid them.

Why expect today's rulers in Russia to pay debt of a man that spent money sending them to Siberia, or having them beaten with the knout?

Unpleasant news from China. Nanking dispatches tell of a British woman, wife of a British official, attacked while asleep by a Chinese soldier and expected to die of bayonet wounds.

Shanghai sends stories of torture and other outrages inflicted on women missionaries.

In Fukien province bandits kidnapped a woman missionary, cut off one of her fingers and sent it to the authorities demanding $50,000, threatening to send other fingers if the money was not paid.

David Belasco obliges Mr. Curtis by picking the "50 greatest actors of all time" and many of them are now living. George M. Cohan, 52; Mary Anderson, 71; Minnie Maddern Fiske, 66; Maude Adams, 58; Julia Marlowe, 64. The ages are supplied by Mr. Belasco, but those that have seen Cohan and the ladies can testify that at least 20 years should be taken from each.

The fact is that we have charming actors and actresses but not "great actors and actresses."

Rachel, born in Switzerland, daughter of a Jewish peddler, possessed genius that could not be extracted from all the American actresses that have ever lived.

What the Greek actors with their masks were like, we don't know. But there must have been considerable genius in the succession of actors that caused one of Euripides' tragedies to run in Athens for 500 years.

There is a new gold rush in Australia, following the discovery of a nugget weighing 30 ounces.

On foot, in new and second-hand American automobiles, by airplane, and on camels and horses, the gold seekers rush to "peg out their claims." Many gold hunters will use up enough energy to make a satisfactory success in ordinary life.

But gold is a stimulant to effort, ordinary work is not. Certain words appeal to all human beings powerfully, because they go far back in our history, for instance death, fear, snake, rat, gold, torture.

You can suggest others.

Jean Tasseraud, to prove that he loved a girl, wrote her a farewell note, pumped to his death from an airplane, his broken body landing in the garden of his mother's home.

Fools will make a hero of him. He would have been more like a hero had he taken care of his mother and lived to prove that he appreciated her, which is every man's first duty.

NEW PROPOSAL IS MADE BY HARMONY COMPANY TO CITY

lic Service Commission for approval of the proposed change in service.

The proposal seemed agreeable to the Mayor and Councilman Reeves who were present, while Councilmen Trese and Genkinger who are on a vacation when advised by telegram, messaged their approval to City Solicitor White, he reports. Councilman Burns who is out of the city and returns Monday will voice his sentiment later.

Apparently the proposal will be approved at the first session of council in which it is up for consideration. The conference session was without bickering or unpleasantness of any kind.

Says Traffic Lower
Among the reason advanced by President Cahill for the proposal is the fact that the railway company in the next two or three years, under the provisions of its franchise on Paul street, Stanton avenue and Taylor street, not to mention Butler avenue, which improvement is under way, would be an expense of many thousands of dollars, possibly fifty or sixty thousand dollars, in meeting its share of the paving improvements and improvement of its rail facilities. The indicated return in revenue through its transportation facilities would not justify this expenditure, he asserted.

Placing of the Harmony terminal at East New Castle on the edge of the city near Cascade street will not interfere in any way with the service the company has been and intends to continue providing for its patrons as an adequate bus service between the present passenger terminal on East Washington street and the new terminal at East New Castle will be maintained. The same schedule will be maintained Mr. McCahill said.

The transportation of freight will be continued by truck to the freight terminal in the rear of the present passenger terminal and the interchange of freight with the P. and O. System will be continued by truck as in the past.

How City is Affected
What the proposal means to the City was voiced by City Solicitor R. M. White.

He says that it means that where under present conditions it is almost impossible to keep the streets and paving in proper condition because of the transportation of heavy freight trains and the seventy thousand pound passenger cars along the streets on the tracks of the company, that this condition will be eliminated. These heavy cars are much harder on streets than the little cars in use on the city lines.

In the matter of the paving of Taylor street, Solicitor White states, under the proposal the company will not move its tracks to a private right of way owned by it to one side of the street, where it could not be assessed for improvements and the tracks will be eliminated in the making of the improvement. If the company continued to operate its lines and moved its tracks to the private right of way, the burden of expense would be on the city, but under the provisions of the proposal, the property benefited will be assessed and the city relieved of a very considerable expense.

According to Solicitor White, the city for several years has been seeking to get title to the private right of way of the company from Butler avenue to Taylor street, to establish a highway between those points to divert traffic from East Washington street to southern parts of the city and points south of the city. This could be accomplished, if the proposal is approved, as the company gives this right of way to the city, he says.

The Woods and Golder Construction Company in the repaving of Butler Avenue, can pave clear across and without interference from the railway.

Should the proposal of President McCahill be accepted by the city, it is to become effective Monday August 12.

Tickets will be sold under the new service, as in the past at the East Washington Street terminal and transportation afforded to the East New Castle terminal buy bus on regular schedule, which is to be the same as now maintained by the company.

Present facilities at East New Castle will be increased to care for the increased needs at that point.

Application for the change in service will be made to the public service commission without delay.

McCahill's Statement
The following statement was made by President McCahill following the conference.

"This decision on the part of the company is in line with the present policy of both interurban and steam railroads, which policy has been necessitated by the need of reducing operating costs because of reduced traffic over rail lines."

"It is also in line with the present policy of steam and interurban lines to bring to the passenger traffic a delivery point more nearly accommodating their needs, allowing them to get on or off at streets rather than going to a street terminal."

"We believe that better accommodations will be afforded the public of New Castle by a local bus service than by the service heretofore furnished. Besides operating buses in local service, it will be possible to deliver through passengers bound to and from points to the west and north of New Castle to the stations of other connecting carriers, instead of requiring them to walk across town to make connections. We believe that it should result in increased through traffic."

"At the present time, we have bus line accommodations between New Castle and Pittsburgh via Butler and have certificates of operations between New Castle and Ellwood City, Ellwood City and Zelenople and Zelenople and Pittsburgh. We have now applied for through operation of buses between Pittsburgh and New Castle via Ellwood City and Zelenople and will immediately put on that through service as soon as the road between Ellwood City and Zelenople is opened up to traffic."

"The company has adequate, up-to-date bus equipment to carry on the new service here as well as the new through service when the road is open."

"In view of the present tendency of the public to travel on rubber instead of steel rails, the company does not feel justified in spending the money to comply with the requirements of the City of New Castle respecting paving and maintaining of streets traversed by its cars in New Castle and we believe that both the traveling public and the city will be accommodated by the new arrangements under which the large cars of the harmony line give way in the congested traffic on the streets caused by automobiles."

THE EIGHT AS BUICK BUILDS IT

Over 1,500,000 people visited Buick showrooms on Saturday, July 26, to see The Eight as Buick Builds It... the greatest reception ever accorded an eight-cylinder car.

Bona fide orders for these new Buick Eights totaled 7000 before the car was presented—a greater volume of business than any single month's sales of any other Eight* ever built.

And within the first five days, this record volume of orders had doubled.

There are four series, in four price ranges, including one series priced fully $200 lower than last year's Buick Six. It is the world's lowest priced Valve-in-Head Straight Eight!

various hospitals and penal institutions looked after construction when funds were provided.

During the last year the department has received bids on scores of projects. These projects called for new hospitals, penal institutions, additional facilities at the normal schools, new armories, additions to the tuberculosis sanatoria and construction of buildings at Harrisburg.

Already Show Saving
The legislature appropriated more than $26,700,000 for construction. Of that sum $3,000,000 went to reimburse the Highway Department for funds advanced in the construction of the North Office Building. There was also $2,500,000 given to Penn State College for new buildings over which the department exercised no control.

The remainder of the sum appropriated was in the hands of the department. Through rejection of bids, closer supervision over the preparations the department has been able to carry out its construction program for less money than originally estimated.

Not only was construction placed in the hands of the department but also the purchasing of supplies for these various institutions. This change has resulted in savings by being able to purchase in larger quantities. Any surplus resulting from this change also will be returned to the general fund of the State Treasury.

With the Fisher administration preparing to hand over the reins of government to its successor the word has gone out to department heads to avoid any deficiencies. This is usual at the end of each governor's term but sometimes in the past it has been forgotten and departments have been permitted to operate on a scale far in excess of their original appropriation.

Economy Stressed
Budget control is a means of preventing departments from spending more money than available. Of course if an emergency arises between this and the end of the Fisher administration the department involved would be permitted to create a deficiency.

Department heads have been instructed to hold their expenditures down so as to avoid any deficiency. Some deficiencies may arise in appropriations to institutions but even these will be small. This is the first biennium that funds for the operation of all State institutions are handled through the State Treasury.

In the past all money received from patients or students of the normal schools was handled by the institution treasury apart from the State contributed. That system was changed by the last legislature and now all bills and salaries for these institutions are paid by the State Treasurer.

Peter's Adventures

WHAT CAME OF ALL PLAY AND NO WORK

The Wise Ant was growing all hot and bothered at the mere mention of Mr. Ant. Peter was surprised.

"Why don't you like the poor fellow?" asked the boy. "Surely Mr. Ant has never harmed you."

"No, but he plays while I work, and that makes me mad," confessed the Ant, who was nothing if not truthful. Then, like the mist from the meadow, Ant's bad temper vanished. "After all, maybe I am too hard on poor Mr. Ant," said she. "My life is a long one if it is a busy one, and his is really too short for me to envy. I am a worker, and I am proud of it. I am a very important insect in Ant-Hill Town, let me tell you. Even the Queen is not more honored than I am for it is upon me, and others like me, that the welfare of the Ant race depends."

Ant puffed out her fat body and doubtless would have gone right on praising herself if at that moment Peter had not bumped into something in the middle of the path through the tall grass down which the two companions were traveling.

NO WATER SHORTAGE
There is no scarcity of water, reports W. R. Miller, head of the Mercer Water company which supplies the town from wells. The amount of water used daily has increased as might be expected from the long drought which is in its fifth week now. With the smaller streams of the locality dried up and the creeks at their lowest ebb of years the situation for farmers with stock to water is critical. Not for 16 years has there been anything like this, say the old timers.

ACREAGE BURNED
Twenty acres of land in the Cranberry school community located on the town's border to the north were burned off with a grass fire Monday afternoon. The grass is presumed to have been ignited by a spark from the Bessemer Railroad engine. All the neighbors of the community were out fighting the blaze. Their united efforts saved any of the standing grain crops from damage as well as the buildings.

Girl Scout Camp Most Successful

Fifty Six Girls Are Enjoying Outing At Rentz
Camp

IMPROVEMENTS ARE NOTED THIS YEAR

Girl Scout camp, now in session at Camp Fred L. Rentz of the Y. M. C. A. has been decided a success from the moment that it opened.

With arrangements completed prior to the opening of the camp and plans made for the conducting of the camp after its opening and the trained counselors taking their respective places in the lives of the girls and the camp to the fullest extent, there is nothing left to be desired in the matter of the success of the camp.

Fifty-six girls are under canvas, eight girls to a tent and with a patrol leader in charge. Discipline is required and is being maintained in a remarkable manner, according to Miss Nance Pugh, scout director.

On the arrival of the girls, they checked with Miss Pugh at the office in the lodge and with Mrs. H. K. Bell the nurse and were then assigned to their respective patrols.

The camp opened with a General Camp Fire on Tuesday night. There was a brief period allotted during which each girl went for a short walk with someone of the girls whom she was not acquainted.

They became acquainted during their walk and on returning to the campfire, introduced their respective companions to others of their acquaintance and in that way, all were soon acquainted, because the telling of their life's history was one of the features of this get acquainted period.

The general campfire included songs, a story told by Miss Sankey, dramatics teacher and some ring games. The evening festivities for the opening evening were brought to a close with a pajama parade just before retiring.

Many Improvements
Improvements in the camp is most noticeable this year, among other things that are adding to the enjoyment of the camp being the splendid lodge constructed through the generosity of Mrs. Fred L. Rentz. Its commodious proportions afford plenty of room for the entire group to enjoy their meals at one time and to spend their time there on days on which they might be compelled to stay indoors. It also furnishes a splendid place for the office and many of the activities. New rustic furniture adds to the charm of the beautiful building.

Then Jacob's Well as it is known because of the first name of its donor which was drilled to furnish good drinking water, is fulfilling the purpose for which it was drilled. The water is splendid and has been tested and approved by the state health authorities.

Good reading is available through the courtesy of Miss Alice Sterling, librarian of the New Castle Public Library. An excellent assortment of books has been placed at the disposal of the girls, including a number of new and special books designed for just such a group of girls.

Day's Routine
An outstanding feature of the life of a Girl Scout in camp is routine. This being carried out systematically in the present camp. Everything is done at a certain time and at that time.

The days program follows: 7 a. m. Rising, 7:45 a. m. colors 8 a. m. breakfast 8:30 a. m. to 10 a. m. camp capers 10 to 10:30, get together, 10:30 to 1 p. m. free time, 1 to 1:30 p. m. dinner, 1:30 to 2 p. m. court of honor, 2 to 3 p. m. rest hour, 3 to 3:30 p. m. play swim, 3:30 to 5:30 p. m. hobby hours, 5:30 to 6 p. m. free, 6 p. m. supper, 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. games, 7:30 to 8:40 p. m. campfire, 9 p. m. taps.

The camp counselors are Mrs. W. H. Hanger, Mrs. Harry K. Bell, Miss Alice Eibeck, Miss Elizabeth Reis, Mrs. Harry Wetlich, Miss Nance Pugh.

Eight girls are quartered in each of the seven tents in use. One of each group is a patrol leader in charge of the tent.

Young Pittsburgh Athlete Makes Ace In Golf — Other
Thrills Overshadowed

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7.—William Scully, youthful Pittsburgh athlete, today had achieved nearly all the thrills which sport can offer.

Previous to yesterday Scully had scored a touchdown from the kick-off; had clouted a home run with the bases filled to win a baseball game, and had flipped a basket in the final seconds of a basketball game to bring victory to his team.

But all these—unusual enough without addition—became only secondary yesterday when William scored a hole-in-one at the Ardmore Golf Club.

While playing with his father, Dr. R. A. Scully, Dr. G. C. Van Camp and William Darby, the youth sent his drive from No. 9 tee down the 230-yard stretch onto the green, from where the ball slowly rolled into the elusive cup for an ace.

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7.—City police today were attempting to locate relatives of a middle-aged, well dressed amnesia victim, tentatively identified as Robert C. Chasse of Towanda, N. Y.

The man was found aimlessly walking through the corridors of the Roosevelt Hotel here late yesterday, unable to recall his name, room number or any facts about himself. He had been at the Hotel several days, police said.

Papers bearing the name of Robert C. Chasse, a check made out for $125 to that name and $74 in cash were found in his clothing.

Relatives in Towanda are being sought by police to definitely identify the victim.

Troop F Has Formal Mounted Guard Duty At Mount Gretna, Pa.

(Special to The News)
CAMP STEWART, MOUNT GRETTA, Pa., Aug. 7.—The New Castle troop settled down for its first week of intensive training. In spite of the excessively hot weather, the troop is going on with the old New Castle spirit and a great deal of enthusiasm. All the men are in good condition and high spirits. A great deal is being accomplished and the New Castle troop is holding an enviable position in the Regiment.

A formal mounted guard mount was held August 6th with the New Castle troop on guard. First Lieut. Harvey G. Bintrim, the commanding officer of the troop, Officer of the Day; Second Lieut. John Reed, Officer of the Guard. The non-commissioned officers of the guard include: Lee N. Stewart, Sergeant of the Guard, William J. Hemming and Marvin H. Spiker will be Corporals of the Guard.

First Sergeant, George F. Seyffert, is overjoyed with the work of the new recruits. These boys are showing real ability and are rapidly shaping up into fine soldiers. Private Samuel G. Brown has charge of the recruits from New Castle and they are showing excellent form.

One of the reasons for the enthusiastic work of Troop F is the excellent food that our cooks have for three meals every day. There is always tasty and substantial food waiting for the tired and hungry men and the kitchen force deserves unstinted praise for their splendid work. The Citizen's Military Committee, composed of many public spirited men in New Castle, aided the troop greatly by furnishing the kitchen with many extras not supplied by Uncle-

SHANGHAI, Aug. 7.—Armed forces of at least three foreign governments were ready to take active part in the protection of the life and property of their nationals as the Communist menace continued to threaten the entire Yangtze Valley.

British rifle and machine gun units comprising 110 men were ordered to sail for Hankow from here to strengthen British naval forces already hovering off the endangered city. They will arrive Sunday and be quartered aboard the Cruiser Cumberland.

Three hundred Japanese soldiers aboard four destroyers were enroute to Lukiang, Kiangsi province, to afford protection to nationals in case the Communist hordes launch their expected drive against the summer resorts there.

Drought Peril Still Is Present

Showers Here And There But
No General Break
In Drought

GOVERNMENT IS PLANNING ACTION

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The persistent hope that a sudden break in the drought might prevent almost complete destruction of the nation's principal late food crops was virtually blasted today as the U. S. weather bureau reported that there is no relief in sight.

Federal officials from President Hoover down, surveyed the situation grimly, and prepared to mobilize the government's entire resources to soften the catastrophe visited on the great central valley of the country by nature.

Another week of drought, it is declared by experts, will result in destruction of corn and other crops in low lands, which have thus far resisted the ravages of the "rainless summer."

"There have been scattered showers in the last 24 hours and there will be other showers of the same character," said R. H. Weightman, government forecaster.

"However, there is nothing on the weather map today to indicate that there will be any general rains or a real breaking up of the drought."

Telegraphic appeals for action continued to reach President Hoover, the department of agriculture, the Red Cross and other governmental agencies.

The Red Cross, it was announced, has authorized several local chapters to cooperate with other agencies in providing relief in drought-stricken areas.

"Drought relief is not in line with our general policy of disaster relief, which is directed toward such calamities as floods and earthquakes," said Acting Disaster Relief Director John Cramer.

Man Is Severely Burned Fighting Big Forest Fire

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Aug. 7.—George Hoover, 55, of Ligonier, was in a critical condition in a hospital here today suffering from burns received while battling forest fires which already have destroyed over 3000 acres of valuable timber.

Aided by the drought, mountain fires in Westmoreland, Somerset and Fayette continued to burn today with the loss running into thousands of dollars.

An army of volunteer fire fighters are battling the flames.

V. M. Bearer, of Ligonier, district forester, believes that only a heavy rain can save many timber tracts where men have been at work since Monday in an unsuccessful effort to conquer the fires.

Untrue Scales Are Destroyed

More Than 300 Sets Of Short-
Weight Scales Destroyed
After Being Seized

PITTSBURGH STORES
RAIDED BY AGENTS

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7.—More than 300 sets of alleged short-weight scales and measures valued at nearly $15,000 were to be destroyed following their confiscation yesterday in a sweeping series of raids on local merchants by agents of the Bureau of Weights and Measures.

Chief Inspector James P. Bailey announced today that the campaign will continue until shopkeepers either give honest weights and measures or quit the business in favor of those who will.

Previous to starting his force of inspectors on their startling expedition, Bailey transferred every inspector to another division.

Seizures were made in stores, grocery stores, meat markets, and other like shops. The inspectors made a "buy" in each case and took their purchase to their car where correct scales and measures were hidden to check. Immediate seizure followed the finding of incorrect measurement or weight.

According to Bailey the scales confiscated ranged in value from $10 to $100 each. Confiscated instruments, Bailey said, were found which short-weighted purchasers from one ounce on a pound purchase to more than 8 ounces on largest buys and amounts ranging from one fourth of a pint to a quart.

Huge Waste Of Game Is Shown In Vacation Season

Autos Kill Game Along Highways; Fishermen Cause
Waste Carelessly

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—The vacation season always means the killing of an enormous number of wild creatures and the wasting of thousands of fish, according to a statement by the bureau of fisheries. Some of the slaughter and waste is unavoidable, but much of it can be avoided by using ordinary care, it is stated.

Many fishing parties that are planned during the vacation season result in the extreme waste of fish, by those catching them, who do not stop when they have all that they can use, but continue until there is a tremendous surplus, it was pointed out. Reports are being received that many of the traveled highways are strewn with the bodies of birds and animals, killed by automobiles.

Very often these birds and animals are blinded by the headlights of the cars, and cannot get out of the way, it was said. Everyone is urged by the bureau, from a standpoint of humaneness and sportsmanship, to avoid striking these helpless creatures if it can be done without endangering human life.

CHECK FIREBLIGHT

Fireblight on apples, pears and quinces is more abundant this summer than for several years and is causing considerable injury.
"This disease is caused by bacteria which live over winter in cankers on the larger limbs of the trees. Insects and rain spread the bacteria to blossoms and where additional infection may occur.
Control of the disease is obtained by cutting out all cankered areas on apple, pear, and quince trees. Normally, it does not pay to cut out the blighted twigs during the summer but they should be removed in the winter pruning.

CROWN NEW QUEEN

When the ruler of the hive falls the keeper of the bees must see to it that the apian royal family is quickly replaced.
Compulsory abdication of the throne is necessary in the kingdom of the bees. Every colony of bees must be requeened each year to provide the colony with a queen capable of building up a strong colony of bees for winter and spring. Requeening should be done near the end of the last honey flow of the season. If this comes late in the season requeening should be accomplished preferably before the middle of September. The queens may be reared by the beekeeper or purchased from a reliable breeder.

It is necessary to find and kill the old queen before introducing the new one. The operation is a very important one and full details can be obtained at the Extension Association Office. The colony should not be disturbed for 5 or 6 days after the introduction and then the cage used for this purpose can be removed. If eggs are present somewhere in the comb outside the cage the queen has been successfully introduced. If no eggs are present or if the queen is found dead a new one will have to be introduced.

Queens can be introduced most successfully during a honey flow. If introduced at other times great care should be taken to prevent robbing. At such a time comb removed from the hives should be kept covered in an empty super so the robber bees cannot get them. The requeening should be done if possible during the latter part of the afternoon when there is no danger of robbing.

FLOCKS HIT BY "UNKNOWN" DISEASE

Loss of appetite and general listlessness of the birds characterize the "Unknown" poultry disease.
Quite often most of the birds become sick at the same time, and the flock as a whole may consume little or no feed for 2 to 5 days. They acquire an unusual thirst and consume large quantities of water. The drooping become thin and watery. Loss of body weight is rapid for about seven days, and egg laying drops immediately. Birds in 50 percent production may drop to 5 per cent in five days' time. In about seven days the birds begin to eat more feed, but it may take 3 to 8 weeks for the hens to get back to full production. The mortality usually ranges from 2 to 8 per cent.

Post mortem examinations of the birds, early in the sick period, show a heavy silvery mucus coating in the small intestine, but this disappears in a few days. The sick birds usually respond to a treatment of epsom salts at the rate of one pound to 100 or 125 mature hens. Young birds should receive a dose in proportion to their development. The salts should be fed in drinking water because the birds refuse feed.

Some poultrymen contend that the first symptoms are black circles around the eyes. If the salts are given immediately at this stage, the attack will be mild and the losses in mortality and egg production will be considerably reduced.

Since the cause of this disease is not definitely known, the affliction is referred to as the "unknown" disease.

It has been observed in the New England States for several years, and in the summer and fall of 1929 the disease spread extensively in Pennsylvania for the first time.

The Rainbow's End is within Your reach

DID you ever feel so desperate you wanted to jump out of a window? That's the wrong end of the rainbow.
Ill health is a burden on body, mind and friends. But Nature never fails to signal her dangers. Lack of appetite, flabby flesh, loss of strength and skin troubles is a warning from Nature. This is her way of pleading for help.

If you desire firm flesh, a glowing complexion, energy, vitality and the blessings of health you must keep your blood in good condition.

S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions of people who have taken advantage of its wonderful medicinal properties. It gives to Nature what it needs to build you up so that your system may throw off the cause.

All good drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

"Be a snob" says College Prof.

Promotion depends on appearance as well as brains

MAYBE this sounds foolish at first glance, but is it? How many men do you know who need just a little grooming to give them a better place in the world? Two things will improve your appearance immensely. Well kept hands and a good smooth shave! And "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly makes it possible to have both.

Take the shave, for example. Tomorrow morning spread a light film of "Vaseline" Jelly on your face before you work in the lather. Then shave and see the difference. After you try this once you'll be a "Vaseline" Jelly fan for life.

As for the hands—when you come in from doing any form of manual work, apply "Vaseline" Jelly and rub it in briskly before you wash. It softens the cracks, loosens the dirt, soothes the irritation.

A soul that's laid his head on his arm and wept for the bank.

WHY THE AGONY?
Why is it that present-day authors insist on introducing us to such unpleasant men and women as people the average book?

Speaking of this, a New York book reviewer makes the statement that it is rare to meet in contemporary fiction of the professionally serious type a single character one would care to be found dead with. And they're enumerated thus:
"Bores, pests, sullen egotists, dipsomaniacs, crooks, and criminals of all grades, hoboes, plain loafers, vagrant triffles, the utterly inane, sadists and the self righteous are all presented with loving care, smaller than life and in their natural colors."

"One is driven to the reflection that, though life is terrible, it isn't as bad as all that."

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

SELF-RESPECT

One of man's most powerful motives for conduct is self-respect. If the sense of self-respect is strong it does more to promote and maintain good behavior than the more vague feeling of "moral responsibility." The loss of self-respect is final. One then drops into a dismal world, where nothing can ever matter. There are men so liberal they care little for law or conventions, but their self-respect holds them on a healthy level. A course of lectures on this subject might be a strong addition to the course in any high school or college.

NEED TO GROW UP

Moral maturity is what America needs, according to Chancellor Brown, New York university. We need maturity to grapple with prosperity. It might be added that we need it also to grapple with poverty. Women, who know men better than they know themselves, says that men are only little boys grown tall. Most of us are little boys in our minds. We want what we want when we want it, without logic and without reason. Real maturity means a grown-up mind. It is a hard plant to grow. It needs a great deal of hard work, study, cultivation.

THINKING ALONE

L. E. Ross, California man, shoves off in a 35-foot sailboat to cruise the South seas for two years. "I want to bask upon the shores of strange islands," he says. He travels alone. He will go to Australia, the Fiji Islands, Java Singapore, China. His friends, in the rut of daily jobs and responsibilities, will follow him in imagination. Perhaps his greatest opportunity is the chance to think. He may think things through, think them out for himself. No time to think for most of us here. Too busy by day, too tired by night. More South sea thinking, following leisurely action, might help us personally and governmentally.

WHEN ARE YOU HAPPY?

College graduates are always being told that college days are happiest. They are made to believe they don't know when they are well off. They should realize, so they are advised, that they will never be so carefree and happy again. All of which is bad propaganda and not true. Youth is not so happy as age. Youth, with little sense of proportion, still unaware of what is important and unimportant, grieves deeply over trifles. So many little things, occurring so often, make youth miserable.

The after years, if lived with fair thoughtfulness, bring some sort of adjustment to life. Life, properly lived, goes up, not down.

Water Shortage Stops Road Work

Lack Of Water Halts Construction Of Perry Highway In Mercer County

MERCER, Aug. 7.—With practically no rain to offset the most terrific heat wave ever to settle over this section, Mercer county today began to share the increasingly alarming situation which has set in throughout the east. Work was stopped on the Perry Highway, in Fairview township, due to the lack of water with which to keep the concrete mixers in action. The men were told to return after a real rainfall which will again restore the sources of supply.

Work was stopped on the Perry Highway, in Fairview township, due to the lack of water with which to keep the concrete mixers in action. The men were told to return after a real rainfall which will again restore the sources of supply.

Pastures throughout the county were drying up at an alarming rate today, and milk production is falling off in practically every herd in the county, it is stated by farmers in touch with the situation.

Splashed Water Over Hillers

Lieutenant Tells Mayor Police
Version Of Midnight
Tilt

Mayor William H. Gillespie stated today that he had conducted an investigation of charges that city police had used harsh words to Mrs. Charles Agass, Croton avenue when they were called to Neshannock creek dam, at midnight, Monday and found her in bathing.

The city's chief executive, who by virtue of his office is superintendent of police said that Mrs. Agass appeared and reiterated her statements which were corroborated by Mrs. Harry Lutton. The mayor, however, said the police explained to his satisfaction and none of them would be punished.

According to the mayor's statement, on information he received from the police, they were called to the dam by persons in Croton avenue who stated some person was throwing stones around in the dam.

Two police went to the dam and finding Mrs. Agass in bathing asked her why she was in the stream at such an hour. She had gone in bathing she said on account of the heat.

The officers, according to the mayor returned to headquarters and notified Lieutenant of police Peter Hillers, who has charge of police at night. He personally went to the scene to investigate. It was his duty to do this.

The mayor says that he understands that Mrs. Agass was tearing out rocks where they had been placed to dam the stream for a place to swim.

Some words were spoken to and fro and Mrs. Agass told the police she had a right in the stream and refused to leave. During the tilt, it was charged that she had been threatened with arrest.

In fact it is reported that the threat carried the information that she would be removed to the police station attired in her bathing suit. She refused to leave the stream.

Hillers reported to the mayor that the threat had been made because when she threw the stones about in the creek they were thrown to close to him that they splashed water over him.

Mrs. Agass and Mrs. Lutton live in Croton avenue and their homes rear on Neshannock creek.

A crowd of swimmers use the dam. Mrs. Agass stated to the mayor she had never spoken unkindly to any of the small folk.

She said on account of having roomers who worked at night it was impossible for them to sleep in the day time.

"The entire situation is that it is a 'self preservation' feud."

1. The occupants of the properties do not want to lose roomers.

2. The owner of the properties do not want to lose tenants.

3. The police do not want to tear out the dam or order swimmers out because the city solicitor claims the city lacks jurisdiction.

4. The boys do not want to lose their swimmin' hole because it is waist-deep, in clean water and the deepest hole they can get above North Street.

The entire situation could be cleared if the city had a municipal bathing pool. City Solicitor and councilmen believe this.

But the council does not want to build a pool because the city will be liable for accidents should they happen.

Today Councilman Reeves said that every little town in the west has a pool.

If the city did build a pool and assume liability, under police powers they could close down swimming in other places.

It is only under the city's police power however, that they can act according to White.

The city council does not want to do this evidently but indications for a municipal pool next year are bright.

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Dad-Mother Complexes Explained

You have read about the so-called Oedipus complex, the idea of the mother and son, father and daughter attachments. According to the Freudian theory, this attachment obtains because of some subtle sex interest, even to the degree that the mother who caresses her baby boy, or the father his baby daughter, is enjoying some sex-satisfaction unawares.

Now I think as you look around you often see in relation to the runabout child an obvious mother-son and father-daughter favoritism. But you don't need the "complex" to explain it at all. As Bertrand Russell pointed out, and as Dr. Leta Stetter Hollingworth's new book observes, the average father wants his boy to grow up to be rugged and to rough it. He is inclined, therefore, to appear a little hard on the boy expecting a great deal from him.

The mother thinks that dad is a little too severe on Bob, so therefore she comes to Bob's rescue, and as she does so she angers dad, who bears on a little harder. Back and forth goes the swing between the parents, all the while the son and mother working in each other's interests.

So with the girl; because she is a girl her mother expects certain things of her, certain niceties of convention, certain social standards about which the father is much less concerned. He is inclined to think the mother too exacting of the girl. Mother is annoyed that he should question her good judgment and more or less unconsciously she stiffens up in her demands upon the daughter, while the father compensates by more compromises.

Naturally the daughter reciprocates and leans toward dad and he, in turn, toward her. This compensating tendency between parents is a rather common one. I could recite a number of situations in which Mrs. Myers and I find ourselves, when one interprets the other to be extreme in any one direction, swinging in the opposite direction.

Of course, the problem becomes more difficult for mother where a child, either girl or boy, and particularly if a boy, has had a great deal of illness and the mother has nursed him from death's door. She has a hard time really letting him grow up to be a man.

This tendency becomes most dangerous when there grow up little subtle conspiracies between mother and son against dad, or between daughter and dad against mother. In homes—very intelligent otherwise—such conspiracies develop frequently. The mother says, for instance, to the boy: "Dad just gets that way; we'll fix that, all right; you just do this"; or, dad says to daughter: "We'll not let mother know anything about this." The results are obvious.

In spite of the natural tendency toward mother-son and daughter-dad attachment before adolescence, there are some other factors which normally help to weaken these unfavorable ties. Physically and socially, as adolescence dawns, the mother has the better understanding of the daughter and the father of the son; and, in many other ways, those pairs of the same sex have more experiences and interests in common. If all along the parents had attempted to be sympathetic with the children almost ideal comradeship may grow up, by and by, between the mother and her daughter and between the father and his son.

Everything, therefore, the mother can do to become a pal to her adolescent girl and dad to become a comrade of his adolescent boy ought to help to overcome this mis-named Oedipus complex.

What do the letters "S O S" stand for?

The International Radiotelegraph conference at London in 1912 selected the letters "S O S" for the radio distress call. The individual letters stand for nothing, but the combination signifies distress by the sender. The combination was chosen because the dots and dashes used were so simple that the most inexperienced radio operator would have no difficulty in detecting it. The call is three dots, three dashes and three dots.

How far away can lightning and thunder be observed?

BEAVER FALLS, Aug. 7.—For the second time this year, the Gulf Refining company's service station at Ninth street and Seventh avenue, Beaver Falls, was held up and robbed by an armed bandit at 1:55 o'clock this morning.

The man, who climbed in a window of the station, confronted Herbert Morgan, the attendant, with a 32 calibre revolver, removed about $8 in currency and small change from the cash register drawer and fled from the building, Morgan says. He was masked with a handkerchief drawn over the lower part of his face.

Morgan, according to a report made to police, chased the man for a distance and returned to the service station where he called to Patrolman McCullough of the city police force who had been in the washroom during the holdup but had not been warned of the occurrence.

MAN, 85, SAYS KONJOLA IS A REAL MEDICINE

Finds Long Sought Relief In New Compound—Eager To Tell Others.

MR. AARON CHRISTMAN.

Konjola, the new and different compound of 32 ingredients, is proving a boon to the aged as well as to men and women in the prime of life or to the youth of the land wherever Konjola is known. Take, for instance, the experience of Mr. Aaron Christman, of Dallas, Pa., who says:

"At my age, 85, I had no idea that any medicine could help me, and I was discouraged and disheartened. I had kidney trouble; had to rise six or eight times every night and had a dull ache across my back. I was constipated, and steadily lost weight. But how Konjola helped me! I took four bottles and was as another person. To me, after this experience, there is no medicine to compare with Konjola."

So it goes; victory after victory when Konjola is given the chance to show why seven million bottles of this medicine were used in two years; why Konjola is America's best known medicine.

Konjola is sold by Love & McGown, the druggists, 204 E. Washington St., this city.

Ambridge Tops Ellwood Team

Ambridge Team Takes Close 6 To 5 Victory In Beaver Valley League Game

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 7.—A close battle took place last night when Ellwood City traveled to Ambridge and dropped a contest by a 6-5 score. Although Ambridge garnered only six hits they made them count for tallies while the Tubers bunched eleven swats but crossed the plate only five times.

Both crews started off in good fashion by collecting one marker apiece but in the second inning the winners crossed the plate four times before they could be stopped. The Ruskotic club was not far behind though as they made two runs. During the next two frames neither aggregation fattened their score.

In the fifth period Ellwood brought the tilt to a deadlock by getting two runs to bring the score to a 5-5 standing. The game continued to be a tie as both clubs went scoreless in the sixth but in the seventh stanza the Ambridge nine pushed over a run to break the tie. As only seven innings were played the Tubers did not get any further opportunity to even up matters.

Hamilton Hurts Well

With Mundo out of commission due to an infected hand Ruskovic was forced to send Hamilton to the mound. This chap hurled in fine fashion as he let the opponent down with only six hits while the locals secured eleven from Zaneski. Not only was Ellwood forced to use an outfielder at the pitcher's box but several other changes were made in the lineup. Boyle was given the left field berth and Fitzgerald moved up to the short stop position in place of Burke. Marshall a catcher was injured sometime ago, was put into action last night when he played right field. Two errors on Volpe and Fitzgerald proved very costly and helped the Beaver Valley nine to win the fray.

Boyle, Fitzgerald and Volpe hit hard for the locals as each was credited with two hits. One of Fitz's was good for an extra base and Fred Sanders also connected for a two sacker. Mike Sanders played well in the outfield as he took care of five chances in a perfect manner.

Ambridge's hits were well placed and were secured when they were needed. Greer, Zirlila, Matzie, Olgan and Zaneski all had bingles to their credit. This timely hitting brought victory to the Beaver Valley club as they made every hit count for a tally.

Military Camp Life Described By Kelly

Ellwood Chef Surpasses All Hopes Of Battery In Menus

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 7.—The New Castle News is in receipt of the following letter written by Corporal J. E. Kelly of the Pennsylvania National Guard, 107th artillery which left for two weeks camp at Tobyhanna, a week ago.

The letter is dated Sunday, August 4. It follows:

Sunday morning and camp is getting in full swing at Camp John Handy Hall, Tobyhanna, Pa. The second Battalion headquarters battery from Ellwood City, commanded by Capt. Wallace C. Bower, Jr., attended church services conducted by Capt. Peters, Chaplain of the regiment, also gave a very interesting and helpful talk on sanitation, military courtesy and guard duty.

After church services the battery returned to the mess hall where everybody enjoyed a well prepared meal. There isn't a fellow in the outfit who is not ready at all times to vouch for the efficiency of our chef, Joseph Young, well known sanitary officer of Ellwood City. He is ably assisted by cook McKinney. The mess hall is in charge of Sergeant Campbell. You know folks, the mess hall is one of the most important places in the military camp and the battery from Ellwood City can certainly be proud of theirs.

Bright and early Monday morning the battalion saddled up and rode about four miles to the shores of Lake Waseka, situated as it is in the Pocono mountains, affords a beautiful resting place for both horses and men. On account of special care taken of our horses by Stable Sergeant Norton, the horses are in excellent condition and many of the "Rookies" are still standing up to eat.

We returned to camp for noon mess after which the men were given a couple of hours in which to clean their equipment, so that we might keep up the good appearance of the battery. The men from Ellwood City are working hard to get one of the cups which are presented at the end of the camp period by Colonel Wood. Capt. Bower is well pleased with the able assistance of Lieut. Hall and Lieut. Holbein who are proving to be good leaders.

Following evening mess, the men who are not selected for guard duty are permitted to go to town until midnight. They look well dressed in their new Melton cloth uniforms. We also have a theater and recreation hall in camp where the boys can enjoy a good show any evening. Other recreations are boxing and wrestling matches held under the direction of Col. Wood, who enjoys a good clean scrap.

There is always somebody in the battery street who can tickle a banjo and the fellows enjoy getting together each evening to sing all the old songs and a few new ones.

When "taps" sounds at 10:30 o'clock most everyone is ready to hit the "bunk".

Mess Hall Proves Big Attraction To Troop F Guardsmen

Troops Vie To Keep Eating
Place In Order; Food For Locals Excellent

(Special to The News)
CAMP STEWART MOUNT GRET-
NA, Aug. 7.—The most popular place here for members of New Castle's crack unit of the Pennsylvania National Guard, Troop F, is the mess hall. Through the wonderful leadership of First Lieutenant Harvey G.
Buntin, troop commander, the New Castle guardsmen it is possible for the men to have the best food that can be obtained. There is a mess fund of nearly $500 that can be converted for that purpose.

In addition to the government rations the troop when it left New Castle carried groceries valued at about $200.
The mess hall is inspected daily and nothing seems to pass the inspection officers' eyes. Everything must be in place and the food must be taken care of properly. The troop having the best managed mess hall has the mark of their organization in front of the hall. It is considered quite an honor to have the cleanest and best managed hall.

We are proud to call them "STANDARD" dealers ★

MUCH of our remarkable progress during the past year and a half has been due to the dealers who have represented us in Western Pennsylvania. To their loyalty and their consideration for the best interests of their customers.

To the ranks of these older dealers have recently been added over 200 dealers who formerly handled the gasoline products of the Waverly Oil Works Company, making what we believe to be the most representative and highest type group of gasoline retailers in this section of the State. We are proud of them, of the confidence their customers hold in them, and in the products which they sell.

For a square deal every time, deal with a "Standard" Dealer. Then you too, will say "Good luck with 'Standard.'"

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

28. The Puritans—Maine and New Hampshire Settlements

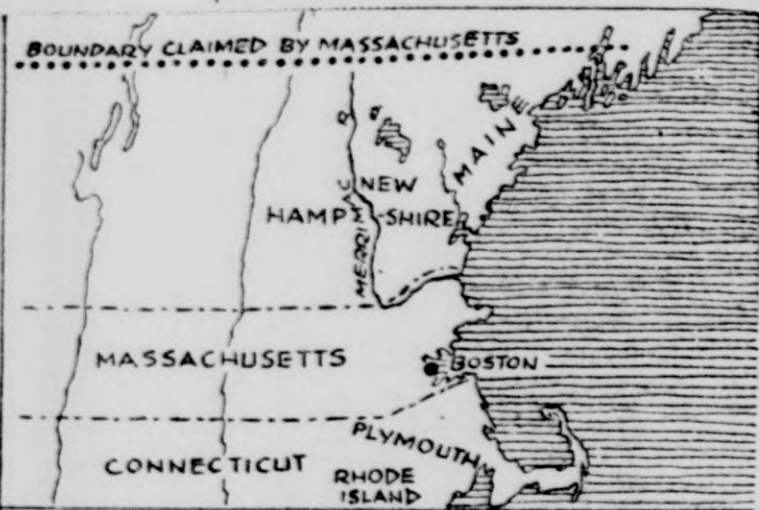

BEFORE THE PURITANS CAME TO AMERICA SIR FERDINANDO GORGES, COURTIER AND MEMBER OF THE COUNCIL FOR NEW ENGLAND, PLANTED SOME SMALL SETTLEMENTS ON THE COAST OF MAINE. AT THE SAME TIME JOHN MASON, ANOTHER COURTIER, ESTABLISHED SETTLEMENTS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

(Copyright, 1930, by J. Carroll Mansfield)

IN 1639 GORGES WAS GRANTED A CHARTER MAKING HIM PROPRIETOR OF MAINE. GORGES, A STaunch ROYALIST AND EPISCOPALIAN, HATED THE WHOLE PURITAN MOVEMENT AND DID EVERYTHING IN HIS POWER TO CHECK THE GROWTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

THE MASSACHUSETTS BAY COMPANY'S CHARTER (1628) HAD FIXED THE NORTHERN BOUNDARY OF MASSACHUSETTS THREE MILES NORTH OF THE MERRIMAC RIVER. LATER, WHEN EXPLORATION SHOWED THAT THE MERRIMAC TURNED SHARPLY TO THE NORTH, MASSACHUSETTS LAID CLAIM TO ALL THE LAND EXTENDING TO A LINE THREE MILES NORTH OF THE SOURCE OF THE RIVER.

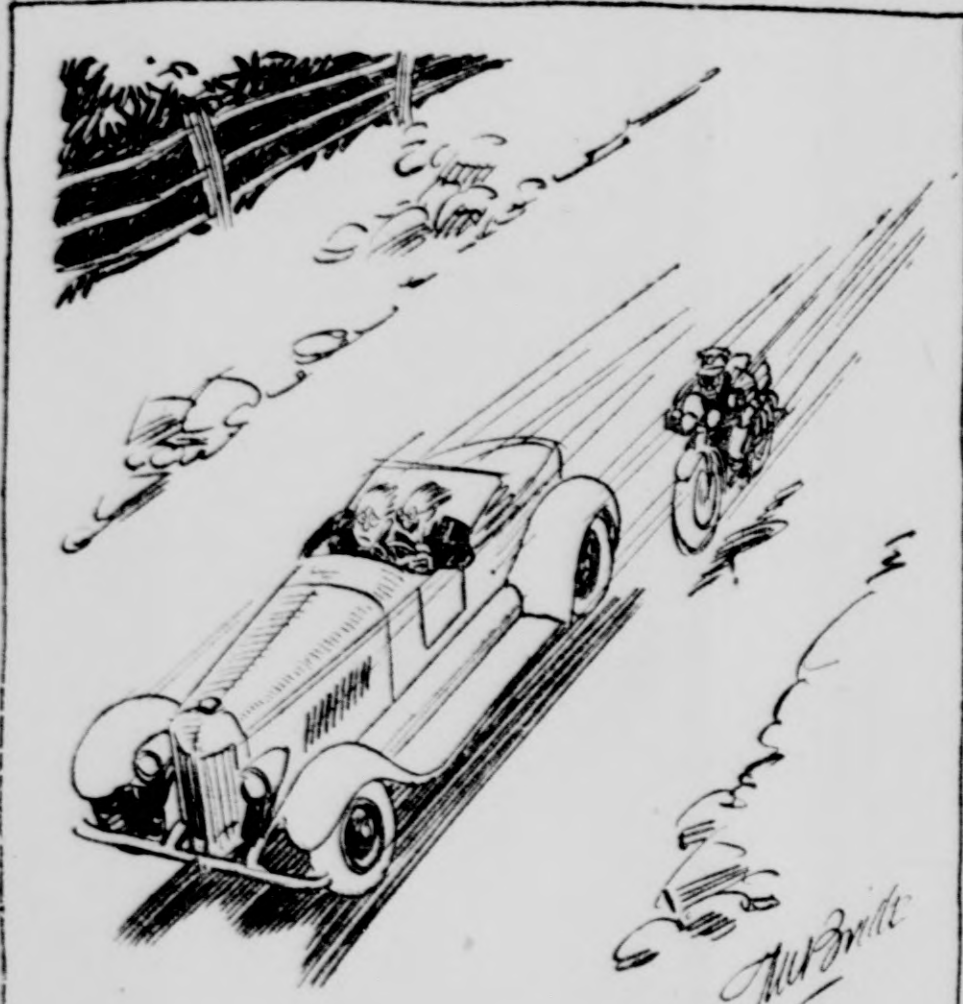

THE LAND CLAIMED BY MASSACHUSETTS INCLUDED ALL THE NEW HAMPSHIRE SETTLEMENTS AND PART OF MAINE.

IN 1641 MASSACHUSETTS ANNEXED NEW HAMPSHIRE WITH THE CONSENT OF THE SETTLERS, WHO NEEDED THE PROTECTION THE LARGER COLONY COULD GIVE, AND IN 1677 AFTER A LONG DISPUTE BOUGHT MAINE FROM GORGES' HEIRS.

IN 1675 THE KING ORDERED NEW HAMPSHIRE RESTORED TO MASON'S HEIRS, AND IN 1680 MADE IT A ROYAL PROVINCE.

MAINE REMAINED UNDER THE CONTROL OF MASSACHUSETTS UNTIL 1820 WHEN IT BECAME A STATE.

Bloomer Girl Beats Ceil Direct In 2:16 Pace

Captures Event In Straight Heats

Dock Chenault Wins 2:17 Trot And Harry Lauder Takes 2:25 Pace

DAVID FRISCO 'COPS' 2:14 TROT

If horse racing is the sport of kings likewise it is the sport of American bourgeoisie, 1,500 of whom turned out yesterday to see the first of a two day's harness horse race meet at the New Castle fair. Four races, two trots and two paces were run and two favorites came through with wins. They were Bloomer Girl in the 2:16 pace and David Frisco in the 2:14 trot. Harry Lauder captured the 2:25 pace and Dock Chenault earned a feed bill in the 2:27 trot.

The win of Bloomer Girl, a sweet stopping black mare driven by J. C. Mott, however, was not a walkaway as Cecil Direct, owned by Crowl and Wheldon and driven by Walter Johnson was a race in every heat and in the third heat Bloomer Girl won by an eye-lash, even though the heat was 2:10, or three fourth a second slower than the second heat.

Bloomer Girl and Cecil Direct left the post at even money. Cecil Direct finished second in the second heat they passed the half mile mark with Pete Peterkin in third place at 1:05. At the third quarter they were clocked at 1:33 3-4 and came down the stretch almost in a bunch. The Bloomer Girl spurred and put a buggy length between her and Cecil Direct and try as he could the game hearted Cecil Direct couldn't reach her. Binnie Direct, a black mare owned by George Reynolds in the sulky, passed Pete Peterkin and topped third place in the second heat.

Sensational Race
And then the third heat! They got away with even money flat. They were bunched at the half and clocked in 1:06. Near the three quarter post Bloomer Girl pulled up on Cecil Direct and came down the stretch head stretched out. What a race! She gradually drew even, then abreast of Cecil Direct.

They clattered by the stands in 2:13. Bloomer Girl winning by her lips it appeared and it may have appeared to the patrons in the stands as though it was a dead heat between 'em. But it wasn't and Cecil Direct was registered second and Pete Peterkin third, which made the race to Bloomer Girl, second to Cecil Direct and third, Pete Peterkin.

The time was 2:10 for the third heat, 2:09 1-4 for the second and 2:09 1-2 for the first heat. Foxey McKinney, a black mare driven by George Wahl, had a cake by topping fourth place, having finished fourth, sixth and fourth. It was one of those races that made lovers of horse flesh cheer and applaud and applaud and cheer they did.

2:14 Trot
The 2:14 trot was featured, if that is the correct way of saying it by Palmer Harvester being left at the barrier in the second heat, the race being won by David Frisco, favorite. The bay gelding driven by George Hunter won the first and second heats, landed second in the third when Palmer Harvester came back to the track and won the heat.

The field came nine apparently couldn't or wouldn't score right in the first heat when Starter Harry Rowe gave 'em the word. There were several bad actors in the field and they scored half a dozen or more times. They got away finally and when they passed the half mile post seven were bunched with Palmer Harvester and Queen Worthy back.

The field came stepping down the stretch with almost all the field bunched and they flashed by the judge's stand like rays of beacon lights from a lighthouse and David Frisco won the heat in 2:13. Nick Silk was second and Elizabeth M. third. Uffas Worth was fourth.

When they were called out for the second heat the bad actors continued to cut up and they scored half a dozen or more times and finally the starter gave 'em the word with Palmer Harvester being left behind which didn't suit George Fitzhugh, driver of the bay gelding sired by The Harvester.

The field was bunched at the half, clocked in 1:05 1-2 Coming down the stretch, David Frisco was a buggy ahead of Elizabeth M. a smart sorrel mare with Ray Seeley in the sulky. However, George Hunter kept the McKelvey entry out in front and took the second heat in 2:09 3-4.

Verbal Tilt
Queen Worthy was third and Checkers The Great was fourth with the Mack fighting hard to get into the money. After the race Fitzhugh called at the judges stand where a verbal tilt took place between Starter Rowe and he. The grandstand was with George.

"You've been doing this all afternoon. The public doesn't see you but I do," said Rowe. Fitzhugh however, demanded the right to file a protest and posted a fine. With Speed Secretary Jack Rowell it was one of those regrettable incidents in which a starter, nettled by poor scoring, evidently sent 'em away when a trailer turned in front of a field.

In the third heat of the race which was a race, every foot of the way the starter called a "fine" on Nick Silk and sent the field away. Rowe had trouble with the front tier but Driver Carnes told Rowe that he couldn't get his right position. The stand gave Rowe the raspberry but Rowe was gentlemanly enough to apologize.

He had four contenders with bad actors in the first tier and in trying to get them away overlooked Nick Silk. Carnes came to the judges stand and asked if he had caused any trouble in scoring in the other heats and was told negatively by Rowe who then showed his sportsmanship.

He apologized to Carnes and also made an apology to the patrons, but the public, as always in sport, hands raspberries and the crowd gave Rowe a box filled up to the rim but that chap wasn't worried and he went back to his task of starting another heat.

Close Race
In the meanwhile the galaxy of talent was stepping around the track with David Frisco, Elizabeth M. and Palmer Harvester almost nose to nose. Uffas Worth was trying to get one of the first three positions. Sam Harvester and Checkers The Great brought up the field as Nick Silk, being left at the post had been drawn.

The first three came down the stretch, heads stretched out, nostrils drinking in every ounce of air their lungs would take. It was hard to judge them as they flashed past the stand but the judges ruled that Palmer Harvester was first, David Frisco second, Elizabeth M. third and Checkers The Great fourth in 2:08 1-4.

The first event of the day was a 2:27 trot with 14 entries and it was split in two brackets, six going to the post in the first heat and eight in the second. The first heat wasn't much of a race which was won by Dock Chenault in 2:15 1-2 the bay gelding with Lytle in the sulky was followed by Peter Bergen, Carrol Johnson, driving and Robert Allen.

In the heat of the 2nd division Crawford Shoaf drove a fine race and took the heat by forcing Daniel J. ahead on the home stretch, winning in 2:15. In the second heat, Guy Lon, Sonny Yolo, Daniel J. were one two three with Silver Lady fourth in 2:17 1-2.

All except the best winners were ruled out in the third heat and it was a horse race all the way. Dock Chenault was kept in front by B. Lytle with Guy Lon pressing him and Crawford Shoaf trying to ease Daniel J. around 'em. But they finished in order named in 2:17. Dock Chenault won by a sulky length.

George Lauder, a three year old by Count Dashaout and driven by George Hunter took three straight heats in the 2:25 pace. Dorothy Patch was second and Splinter Silk was third. East Coast with Dempsey driving won the fourth place. The time was 2:12.

Before the races started Starter Harry Rowe paid a beautiful tribute to the memory of the late Sankey Pembertly, a horseman who was killed in an automobile accident. The tributes were wonderful after which Taps were sounded. The Star Spangled Banner followed, everybody stood up and at its conclusion the bell sounded. The race summary follows:

OUR OWN ROGUES' GALLERY
Among the germs that should be exterminated are: The bird who calls you at seven on Sunday morning and says, "Did I wake you up?"

The fellow who calls on you when you are sick and consoles you by saying, "I had the same thing."

The gushing dame who says, "Marvelous, lovely, gorgeous and grand" about everything from an ash can to grand opera.

The movie usher who says, "There are plenty of good seats in the 66th row of the fourth balcony."

And the radio announcer who talks in beautiful, soft, eloquent tones about beans!

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Today's racing will start at two p. m. There will be four events and will be sandwiched so that patrons can get away from the track an hour earlier than last evening.

If anyone is busier than a speed secretary he is a one-armed paper hanger with the Filipino hitch. This conclusion is drawn after watching Jack Crowl yesterday at the judges stand.

The officials in charge of the race program here are: Starter, Harry L. Rowe; Judges Dr. J. M. Dunkle, Sam Crawford and Tom McCullough and the timers, John Brinton, Pete Capitola and J. W. Hartwell. Bill Eakin is clerk of course.

New York reports that Jackie Berg the English lightweight will be an eight to five favorite over Kid Chocolate when they clash tonight in a 10 round boxing duel at Brooklyn.

Prediction is made that the section of Grant street between Sampson street and the Shenango river bridge will be opened one week from Monday. Jolly Bowl has been closed while the repaving program is on.

Al Quigley, Chicago led the field with 145. Wingate, Fabrizio, and Givanti tied for runner-up with 130.

Friday afternoon at the Municipal course here, according to Bill Nunn, there will be a tourney between the golfers of the New Castle Field club and those who play at the Municipal course.

Joey Goodman, lightweight in the stable of Jimmy Dunn, is training at Norfolk. He is to be one of the principals in the main bout at a new stadium to be opened there soon. Dunn is also at Norfolk.

Romeo Pacelli, the featherweight boxer, who left New Castle and fought several times in Detroit is now in New York, according to word received by his brother.

Jewie Coen, the game warden yesterday received an offer to play ball for a local team but turned it down stating he is too busy. Right now he is guarding a flock of pheasants at the Fair grounds.

Jeff Burgett the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette trot and pace writer attended the races here yesterday but left today for Dayton. Burgett circulated among his friends and told us to say "Hello to Doc Zerner."

Lefty Foster who has been playing with Elmira, N. Y., has returned to Franklin. Elmira found it necessary to cut the payroll so Foster and three other players were adrift. He is looking for a berth.

Making his appearance in Eastern Canada this year, Percy Williams, Olympic sprint star won a 100 yard exhibition race at Toronto in 9.4 seconds yesterday. Johnny Fitzpatrick, Hamilton, Ont., was second.

Princeton defeated the Borough A. C. 6 to 5 at Princeton, Wednesday evening. Boro tied the score in the first half of the fifth when they made three runs but Princeton put over another run in their half of the fifth and held Boro scoreless in the sixth, winning.

The box score:

Berg-Chocolate Battle Tonight
Jack "Kid" Berg and "Kid" Chocolate Battle In New York Tonight

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Jackie Kid Berg, of England, and Kid Chocolate, of Cuba, the one rising to eminence from the squalor of London's White-chapel, the other once a half-naked street gamin in Havana, will fight ten rounds at the Polo Grounds tonight for a stake that is rich in money but far richer in its promise of rewards to come.

They say will be the next lightweight champion of the world, which is going pretty far, since the next lightweight champion is quite liable to be the present holder of the title, Al Singer. As a fighter, the latter is nobody's chuckle head.

However, only the whimsies of chance have kept Berg from being the champion today. It is obvious now that the first man to get to Sammy Mandell was to win the title. Singer got there first. So tonight Berg must go down to the class below in order to prove that he is an adequate challenger in the lightweight division. New York is like that. Berg ruled a 6 to 5 favorite this morning and it is probable that this price will be longer by tonight.

Rocco To Fight In San Francisco
Emmett Rocco, the Ellwood City heavyweight has been signed by Manager Al Zill for two fights. He will meet George Panka at Braddock bowl, August 18 after which he will go to California to fight Les Kennedy in San Francisco. Kennedy recently outpointed K. O. Christner. Rocco has been in training for several weeks following a layoff, due to an injured hand. Friends of Rocco will be glad to hear his hand has recovered and he has returned to action.

Clowns To Play Studebaker Team
The Clowns of New Castle will play the Studebaker team at Cascade Field at 6:15 o'clock on Friday night. It was announced by Manager Stanley today. The Clowns hope to take the measure of the fast Studes.

Cubs Defeated, Dodgers Win

Brooklyn Increase League Lead To Three And One-Half Games As Cubs Lose

ROOKIE PITCHER FANS SLUGGERS
By COPELAND C. BURG International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Not how good are the Robins but how bad are the Cubs eventually may decide the feverish National League battle and judging from today's record of Chicago, the Brooklyn outfit has a right to be highly optimistic.

Chicago dropped a 4 to 3 effort to St. Louis yesterday, increasing the Robins lead to three and one half games after the Cubs went into the fifth inning with a two-run lead. George Watkins, a Cardinal pinch hitter, sent the Redbirds ahead in the seventh when he homered with one on but the worst of it you haven't heard. Jim Kindsey, a second-string hurler, fanned both Grimm and Hartnett, mighty Chicago sluggers, in the ninth with the bases bogged.

The Robins opened their Western invasion of 22 games by taking an easy affair from the Pirates, 7 to 4. Hollis Thurston pitched airtight ball until the seventh. Al Lopez started it for the flock with a homer after Bissontette singled.

Sad Sam Jones gloomed the Athletics with six tiny hits and triumphed for Washington, 5 to 1. Three Sox errors and a batting barrage by Gehrig and Rice enabled the Yanks to basket a listless skirmish with Boston, 4 to 2.

Coffman gave the White Sox only three safeties and the Browns rang up a shutout, 5 to 0, but Chicago retaliated in the finale as the ancient "Red" Faber spaced St. Louis hits and won, 5 to 2.

George Uhle was as mysterious as a library murder to Cleveland's hitters and Detroit grabbed its sixth straight, 9 to 1.

Pitcher Phil Collins thought he was going to waste one in the ninth on Randy Moore but the Boston Brave third baseman socked it into left field, scoring Richbourg with the run that won for the Braves over the Phillies, 5 to 4.

The Giants and Reds were idle.

Tilden Gets In Hot Water For Substituting

Tilden Substituted For Player At Meadow Brook Club Is Scored

WINS FIRST ROUND OF TOURNAMENT

By MICHAEL J. TOSTER
International News Service Sports Writer.

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 7.—William T. Tilden, 2nd, "stormy petrel" of American tennis, has two hard battles on his hands today on widely separated battlefronts.

One is a battle of racquets and it will be staged on the courts of the Meadow club this afternoon when the national champion, an unexpected added starter in the club's singles competition yesterday, meets Frank Shields, former junior national titleholder, in the feature quarter final match of the club's invitation tournament.

The other is a battle of words, and will find Big Bill arrayed against Berkeley Bell, 1929 intercollegiate champion, and Louis B. Dabney, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association.

The word battle concerns the unexpected substitution of Tilden in the lower half of the draw for Bell.

Bell is Peevish.

The Texan, seeded No. 4 in the draw when it was made up last Monday, claims he was told on his arrival here from Europe with the American Davis cup team that he didn't have to show up until yesterday morning for his first match; that he did show up yesterday morning, and that when he arrived, ready to play he found Bell had been substituted for him, and had already played Frank Bonneau, Bell's opponent originally.

Three other splendid quarter final matches will vie for attention with the Shields-Tilden battle. Eddie Jacobs meets Frank Hunter, Sidney B. Wood, at the top of his game, clashes with George Lott, who is playing below standard, and Wilmer Allison plays Dick Murphy of Utica, N. Y., surprise conqueror of Junior Coen. Play in the doubles continues in the second round with the first seeded team of Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, Wimbledon champions, among the spectators. They were the surprise victims in their first start of the Pacific coast champions, Jack Tidball and Gerald Bartosh, bowing to the coast kids in a three-set battle which saw Allison playing away below par.

Schick's Pitching Trims Marshalls

Marshalls and the New Castle Independents clashed at Centennial field and the Indians won six to five. The Marshalls tried to deadlock the score in the sixth but were checked after making two runs. Schick allowed only one hit while eight were made off Norris. Hock got a triple. The box score:

MUSHBALL LEAGUE

The Spencer team won the championship of the first half of the Mercantile league last night at the Lehigh field, by dusting off the Bankers 8 to 2, in a sizzling game. Llewellyn and Krug were the opposing pitchers and each pitched a fine game of ball, but five errors behind Krug allowed too many runs.

Tonight the Industrial teams go into action as follows: Lehigh Cement vs. Radiator Works at Radiator Field. Shenango Tin Mill vs. Engineering Works. Tin Mill Field. Cheviots vs. Penn-Ohio Electric at Washington Field. Bell Telephones vs. Lockley Machines at Lehigh Field.

The Firemen will play the Haney team tonight at the Carnegie Field instead of the Wampum team. The game starts at 6:30 o'clock. The players kindly notice the playing field which is Carnegie this time.

FROM TEE TO GREEN

TOLLEY'S POWERFUL SHOULDER FINISH

FROM TEE TO GREEN—SPORT STYLES OF MITCHELL AND TOLLEY

By ROY GROVE
Central Press Golf Writer.

There are many contrasting styles in golf, however they are based on one principle.
The best teachers are not the best golfers, and that holds true with the professional tournament player, who on rare occasions is a good instructor.
Abe Mitchell, the great English golfer, has very little follow-through on his game. His action is all in the outdrive the best in the professional ranks.

Also, Mitchell is noted for being a very speedy player. He seldom lines up a putt and if he did he would probably miss it.
Tolley, on the other hand, has the most pronounced follow-through. He hits his mighty ball and comes around on the shot with all the shoulder action that is possible and still keep him on his feet.

Regardless of Mitchell's style he knows the fundamentals that send the ball far and straight. It is the action at contact when the club head goes on to the ball, just as if he were pushing through the extreme with his hands and arms, that make Mitchell.

Both swings are under control on the backstroke and the finish which is a basic fundamental in getting the wrists to co-ordinate at the actual point of contact.
Adopt any style that is natural to you and regardless of all action be sure to whip the wrists through the ball. This should take quite a few strokes off your game. It also accounts for accuracy and the cut necessary for stopping nearer the pin.

FAIR

Webster defines a "Fair" as a gathering of buyers and sellers at a stated season. Fair season in this part of the county is now on and for a few days a number of articles will be on display and those who can will visit the booths and learn of the merits of the various products.

The Classified Ad Columns might be termed a "year round" fair, for by means of this page thousands of buyers and sellers get together to their mutual advantage. The cost is small and results are certain.

Hundreds Fight Big Forest Fire

Damage Of Over Half Million Dollars Reported From Section Of Massachusetts

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Aug. 7.—After a battle of more than 200 fire fighters some success was made today in checking two forest fires raging on Cape Cod. A dozen summer resort settlements between Plymouth and Palmouth were believed out of danger. Damage was estimated more than a half million dollars.
Forty square miles of wooded sections were burned and more than a score of small camps are in ashes.
Only a heavy rain will enable the fire fighters to get complete control of the fires, officials said today.
Monument Beach, Buzzards, Cataumet, Bourne and Bourneville were isolated.

Better Service Is Asked On Harmony

Want Better Bus Service Between Pittsburgh And New Castle

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7.—Commissioner Samuel Walker of the Pennsylvania public service commission was expected to issue an order soon on the petition of persons living between Butler and New Castle for additional service on the Harmony Short Line Motor Transportation company between Pittsburgh and New Castle via Glenshaw, Allison Park, Bakerstown, the Cooperstown.
Hearings on the petition was heard here late yesterday.
Harry L. Clark, superintendent of the Harmony company, said people had inquired why the bus line did not operate a through service from New Castle. Through service, he said, would shorten the time for the trip and would make it necessary for residents between Butler and New Castle to transfer at Butler.

Troop Showing Should Get Armory

Fine Showing Being Made By New Castle Troop At Mt. Gretna

With the fine record being made by Troop F of New Castle in the annual encampment at Mt. Gretna, it should be a proper time to request the effort to have the state construct an armory in New Castle for this military outfit.

For many years New Castle has had a good cavalry unit in the state service, but for some reason or other no armory has ever been erected here.
Many smaller cities of the state have adequate armory facilities provided with state funds, and it seems about time that a serious effort be made to provide one for this city.

REV. A. L. WARREN WILL SPEAK TO MEN ON SUNDAY MORNING

The Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church will have an interesting session Sunday morning at 9:30 when the topic will be "What About Sin" and the speaker will be Rev. A. L. Warren of the Unity Baptist church of Harlansburg.
During the absence of the teacher Rev. G. M. Landis, who is also pastor of the church, the men have been fortunate in having such splendid speakers and teachers each Sunday and the coming Sunday will be no exception.

TO MAKE VISIT
A group of New Castle men interested in Troop F, New Castle, unit of the Pennsylvania National Guard, will motor Sunday to Camp Stewart, Mount Gretna, to pay a week-end visit to the guardsmen.
The group will include Louis B. Round, chairman of the civilian committee, which is sponsoring the troop and reserve officers, Lieut. John D. Kennedy, Lieut. Paul Welsh, Capt. John T. Brettell and Russell Melvin.

Former teachers, pupils and friends with their families numbering more than a 100 gathered at the Maple Grove (Godfrey) school at Fairview township, Mercer, on Saturday, August 2, where a delightful time was had greeting old school mates and teachers and recalling events of former years.
A sumptuous dinner was enjoyed under the shade of the well known old maple trees which make Maple Grove one of the pleasantest rural school sites of the county.
After dinner the company was called to order and J. R. Knapp of Greenville, was chosen chairman for the day. A motion was carried to hold a reunion in 1931 and W. S. Morford was elected president and Sara E. Miller, secretary. After some discussion regarding a date for the next meeting, it was decided to hold the 1931 event on July 4 to avoid conflict with other reunions.
The oldest teachers of the school who were present were Robert Elder, who taught in the school 56 years ago. Other teachers in attendance were Melville Smith Marsteller, Mark Kitch Bromley, Emma Knapp Book, and L. R. Patterson.
Guests were present from New Castle, New Wilmington, Harrisville, Grove City, Oil City, Mercer and the immediate neighborhood. Those present are enthusiastic over the interest taken and the prospect for a much larger attendance at the next gathering.

St. Louis is not to lose the Browns to Milwaukee, but the Cardinals to Detroit, according to latest rumors current in baseball. Though St. Louis baseball men deny that either club is to be transferred elsewhere it is generally admitted that something must be done for both teams are virtually "starving" for gate receipts. Branch Rickey, left, general manager, and Sam Breadon, right, president, are the Cardinals' guiding spirits. Frank Navin, inset below, owner of the Detroit Tigers, would undoubtedly fight any move to establish the Cardinals or any other National league team in his city.

Trees Being Hard Hit By Drought; Also Corn And Tomato Prospects

Continued drought in this locality is beginning to show a most serious condition.
Trees in the woods in the county and around the city are beginning to show many dead leaves, and in some instances whole trees have changed their color, as though it were October.
Corn and tomatoes are being hard hit as a result of the lack of rainfall and these crops will be short, it is certain.
There are many other results being noted of the effect of the continued drought, and here as elsewhere the damage done will be heavy.

ROAMING

With Richards
Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

You still have time left to get to the fair if you haven't been there. There are psychological times for everything, and this seems to be the year for the fair. And when things are running your way, grab them. Better grab a bus and slip out there late this afternoon or tonight and get an eyeful. You'll never know it if you think of the other affairs.

One of the sides of the fair that the public doesn't see is the "home life" of the fairs. Usually a truck or a car is the wall of it, with a flap running out over. A few cots, or an old mattress, a handful of trinkets and some toilet articles and there it is.

Not an elaborate home to be sure, but be chary of your sympathy. Those people don't want it. It's the life they enjoy, the existence that appeals to them, and as long as they are happy isn't just as good as a fifteen room house with a herd of bathrooms scattered about?

Their roof is usually the stars with perhaps a canvas coming between. Their floor is the sod, and their address is elastic. After the lights go down, and the crowd goes home, and the fair ground is quiet and still, then you see the other side of the fair. Did a little roaming around the "homes" of the fair folks last night and there must be something of the gypsy in me. Honestly it rather appealed.

No landlord to suggest a little rent, no bills coming in on the first of the month, no neighbors to ape in the matter of dress or cars or furniture. Just the raw necessities of life, a good appetite and a capacity for sleep is all one needs.

Here and there a banjo could be heard twanging, or a ukelele with its tinkle. Low hums of conversation as the folks got acquainted and snatches of experiences were related. Queer folks, queer looking some of them, but it's the life, and perhaps they feel that you and I are the ones in need of sympathy.

Allen R. Houston had a birthday this week. Not that he is any different than you but Mr. Houston's birthday was his 88th one, which may be a few more than you have had. At eighty-six he is still active and on the job in the court house as a tipstaff, and don't try any monkeyshines with him because has had 86 years of life. Back when the big scrap was on between the North and the South he was among those present and carried a rifle through the fray.

Down at Ellwood and all the way to Zellenople, the folks are pretty well up for the road opening today. That new concrete ribbon between the two points means something to all of us, and it's perfectly right to have a little celebration over the affair.

Hope you are not forgetting the rodeo in Butler on Labor Day. It's the state police annual rodeo, held in this section once every five years and this is our year.

The State Police and Highway patrolmen are on the job today.

Auto Crash Is His Downfall

Police Find Moonshine In Machine Of Charley Moses

When Charley Moses crashed into the machine of Samuel Woods, 24 West Falls street, last night on Butler avenue at Raymond street, he made a mistake, because the police were called, when he ran away.
The call received by the police was from Henry Mersheimer and was to the effect that a man evidently under the influence of liquor and who had moonshine in his car, had crashed into another car.
Officers M. J. Young and Augustine rushed to the scene and found the abandoned car. It was determined whose car it was and Officer Moses and M. J. Young picked up Moses later in the evening.
A gallon of moonshine was found in the car by the officers.
This morning Moses was taken before Alderman Green, where a charge of transporting liquor was made against him by Chief of Police C. C. Horner. He will be given a hearing later.

Don't Starve The Teeth

Teeth have to be built out of foods that are rich in phosphorus and calcium. Many children take into adult life teeth that are defective, unfit for the job that nature intended. Shredded Wheat with milk helps develop sound teeth, good muscles and good bones. It is rich in the bone-making salts. The crisp, crunchy shreds make chewing necessary and that develops healthy gums and good digestion.
